

Typical & Atypical Cognitive Development

Spring 2019

Unit 1: questions on research article

Read the Unit 1 article available at <https://seasense.github.io> and then, briefly answer the questions below.

- Describe in your own words the transactional model of cognitive development.
- When considering the dimensions of age and socio-economic status, which group of children exhibits the largest estimates of heritability?
- Describe at least one educational implication that, from your viewpoint, could follow from the results discussed in the article.

Send your answers / explanation (in English) as a text file (e.g., Word or Pages)
